

MY PROJECT:

FACT FILE

Name: Cheetah.

Habitat: The savannah.

Country: Africa and a part of Asia.

Appearance: Orange with black spots.

Food: Medium animals, for example: gazelles, zebras...

Why it is endangered: Hunting and poaching for their skins and loss of habitat.

Number of cheetahs today: 7.100 in Africa and in a part of Asia.

Report:

My favourite endangered animal is the cheetah. Cheetahs live in the savannah (Africa). They have orange fur with black spots. They eat medium animals, for example: gazelles, zebras... Cheetahs are shy and live on their own. Cheetahs are endangered because of loss of habitat and hunting and poaching for their skins. Today there are only 7.1000 cheetahs in Africa and in a part of Asia.

Here is the cheetah running very fast.

Here the cheetah is hunting.

Here the cheetah is looking at his prey.

Here there's a little cheetah.

By Iraitz
