

ASIAN ELEPHANT

Name: Asian elephant

Habitat: Jungles

Country: Bhutan, Bangladeshi, India, Sri Lanka, Kanboia, Nepal, china, Sumatra...

Appearance: It is gray, very big and it has a trunk

Food: Roots, fruits, grass and tree bark

Why it is endangered: Loss of habitat, hunting and poaching

Number of animals today: Between 50,000 and 63,000

REPORT

My favourite endangered animal is the Asian elephant. Asian elephants live in jungles. In Bhutan, Nepal, India... The Asian elephant is grey, very big and it has a trunk. The Asian elephant eat roots, fruits, grass and tree bark. It's endangered because loss of habitat and hunting and poaching. Today there are between 50,000 and 63,000.

By Lorea

